

Hate Crimes and Bias Related Protocol

After an incident occurs, the reporting process consists of 4 steps, including the individual documentation/report, reviewing submissions, responding, and providing services of support.

A 4-step process

1

Report

Individual documents a hate crime or bias-related incident. Any individual can report a hate crime or bias incident, in person to the designated authorities or via the online form

2

Review

Submissions within the Office for Institutional Diversity are evaluated by the Associate Vice President to determine next steps

3

Respond

Appropriate office(s) contact affected individual(s). Office responders include: Office of Student Conduct, Residential Life, Office for Institutional Diversity, Harassment Counselor, BC Police

4

Support

Appropriate office(s) provide services, such as the Office of Student Outreach and Support, Office for Institutional Diversity, Vice Provost, Faculty/Staff Assistance Program, Academic Dean
