

Perspectives on Spanish America
Interdisciplinary Major*Class of 2028 & Beyond

The Perspectives on Spanish America Interdisciplinary Major (9 courses/27 Credits) is available as a second major to students in the Lynch School pursuing an Elementary Education major, Applied Psychology and Human Development major or Transformative Educational Studies major. It is not an option for students majoring in Secondary Education. The major is recommended for students who may have had at least two years of high school Spanish and wish to develop Spanish language skills, coupled with a background in the historical, sociological, and literary traditions of Spanish-American cultures. This major is particularly appropriate for students with an intended career objective to work with those of Hispanic origin.

| Course Number and Title | Credits |
|---|---------|
| Requirement I (6 credits): Choose two courses of Romance Language and Literature courses. Native speakers, or those with questions regarding proficiency, may contact (RLL@bc.edu), or speak with the CCR coordinator to determine placement. | |
| SPAN2215, Spanish Conversation, Composition and Reading I | 3 |
| SPAN2216, Spanish Conversation, Composition and Reading II | 3 |
| SPAN elective(s) to meet credits, if needed | 3 |
| Requirement II (3 credits): | |
| SPAN3395, Contextos: Introduction to Literary Analysis in Spanish | 3 |
| Requirement III (18 credits): Choose any six interdisciplinary courses from departments that address history, sociology, politics, economics, culture, or education related to Spanish-speaking populations in the Caribbean, Mexico, and Central and South America. EDUC options include EDUC3308 Bilingualism in Schools and Community, and EDUC6346 Teaching Bilingual Students (Elementary Education majors only). | |

Note: Additional courses may be approved by the Lynch School Office of Undergraduate Programs, Campion Hall 104.